

APPLICATION FORM
Faculty Opportunity Fund

The Faculty Opportunity Fund, supported through donor and Provost funds, is used to support full-time faculty members' professional development, particularly as it aligns with the College's mission and strategic goals.

Application eligibility: Full-time faculty members are eligible to apply, individually or in groups.

Application details: All awards are monetary in the form of reimbursed expenses, typically within one calendar year of award date. Proposals may not include summer salary or course reassigned time and they do not cover research expenses. Most awards will be between $500-$5000, however larger awards will be considered. To apply, email this application form along with your CV(s) to apfaculty@jjay.cuny.edu, subject: Faculty Opportunity Fund.

Award process: The Faculty Opportunity Fund Selection Committee (FOFSC) expects to evaluate applications 4-6 times per year, as needed (Feb 1; April 1; June 1; Sept 1; Nov 1). Chaired by the Dean of Faculty, FOFSC includes one faculty member at each full-time rank (Lecturer, Assistant, Associate, Professor) drawn from each of the four Faculty Personnel Committee review committee divisions (see FPPG). Faculty members are selected biannually by the Faculty Senate.

Award criteria: FOFSC will evaluate the degree to which the faculty-focused funding proposal would: (a) further the professional development of the faculty members(s); and (b) further the College's mission and strategic goals.

Note: Prior to applying, please ensure that your request cannot be fulfilled via other funding opportunities (e.g., CUNY, OAR, or PSC-CUNY): <http://www.jjay.cuny.edu/funding-opportunities>. Any individual can receive an award (alone or in a group) no more than once every two years.
