

BALI, INDONESIA

*Religion, Deviance, and Social Control:
A Comparative Focus on Bali*
Summer 2024

JOHN
JAY
COLLEGE
OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE

Bali, Indonesia

Religion, Deviance, and Social Control: A Comparative Focus on Bali

Program Dates: June 22 – July 21, 2024*

*Dates subject to change

Program Director: Prof. Amy Adamczyk, Department of Sociology

Application Deadline: Monday, April 1, 2024

PROGRAM

This program will take place in Ubud, Bali, which provides a good point of contrast to the United States for understanding complexities related to religion, society, and deviance. Drawing on examples from the Balinese context, trips to relevant sites, and lectures by guest speakers, students will learn to apply their understanding of deviance and social control to North American and Balinese contexts.

ACADEMICS

Undergraduate Courses:

SOC 240: Deviance and Conformity (3 credits)

In this course undergraduate students will develop a theoretical understanding of deviance and social control and apply it to the North American and Southeast Asian contexts. We will discuss sociological theories of deviance and how these theories are relevant across these regions. Religion often forms the basis of social rules. Students will learn how different belief systems (e.g., monotheistic vs. polytheistic religions) contribute to rules that ultimately inform norms and laws.

SOC 386: Special Topics: Bali through a Sociological Lens (3 credits)

In this special topic's class, referred to as "Bali through a Sociological Lens," students will use a sociological perspective to understand the culture and structure of Balinese society and to make cross-national comparisons. Students will examine the religious and historical culture and economic, legal, and political structure of this small island.

Please note: Both courses are required as part of this study-abroad program.

Graduate Course:

CRJ 769: Deviant Behavior (3 credits)

This MA-level course will help students develop a theoretical understanding of deviance and social control and apply it to the Southeast Asian context. We will discuss sociological theories of deviance and differences in how these theories might be applied in North America vs. Southeast Asia. Religion often forms the basis of social rules. Students will learn how different belief systems (e.g., monotheistic vs. polytheistic religions) contribute to rules that ultimately inform norms, laws, and policing. We will also examine how different societies respond to deviance, discussing labeling and social reaction theories. Students will gain an understanding of deviant subcultures and how they may be similar or different in the American and Balinese contexts. Students will also learn about the different definitions of and ways to measure deviance.

Summer 2024 Costs

PRE-REQUISITES

- ⇒ Minimum 2.5 GPA
- ⇒ If graduate student, good standing in a Master's program

TENTATIVE PROGRAM COST: $1,600

Subject to change. Includes double occupancy, hotel accommodations, some meals, international health insurance, excursions and transportation on-site associated with program. Does not include tuition, airfare, some meals, visa cost, personal expenses & excursions, etc.

IN-STATE	OUT-OF-STATE
Program Cost: $1,600	Program Cost: $1,600
Undergrad Tuition: $305/UG credit $1,830/6 UG credits	Undergrad Tuition: $620/UG credit $3,720/6 UG credits
Grad Tuition: $470/G credit $1,410/3 credits	Grad Tuition: $855/G credit $2,565/3 credits
Airfare (estimate): $2,000	Airfare (estimate): $2,000
Meals (estimate): $400-$600	Meals (estimate): $400-$600
Personal Expenses (estimate): $500-$700	Personal Expenses (estimate): $500-$700
Visa (estimate): $100	Visa (estimate): $100

Please note: all non-CUNY students, please contact OISP for more information

FOR ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Ken Yanes, Dep. Director

Daniel Braslavsky, Coordinator

212-484-1390, studyabroad@jjay.cuny.edu

- ⇒ Scan the QR code for the program page for further information and the application.
- ⇒ All CUNY students must meet with their study abroad advisor to be sure the proper e-Permit registration process is followed.
- ⇒ Students are encouraged to consult the Financial Aid Office.
- ⇒ Scholarship opportunities can be found linked to the program page.
- ⇒ Students are encouraged to apply early, due to limited space.
- ⇒ Information in this brochure is subject to change, including program cost(s), *dates, itinerary, etc.

SCAN ME

Office of International Studies & Programs
Haaren Hall, Suite 530
John Jay College of Criminal Justice
New York, NY 10019

<https://qrcodes.pro/yLbS9t>

Follow us on IG!

