PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

NYCD Correction Intelligence Bureau Assistant Commissioner February 2015 to March 2017

Responsibilities included oversight of the Correction Intelligence Bureau with special focus on initiatives designed to develop intelligence for the prevention of gang-related activity; investigations of gang-related incidents within New York City Department of Correction facilities after they occur; and arrest and prosecution of inmates responsible for criminal incidents within. Management of the Correction Intelligence Bureau's intelligence gathering, investigations and arrest processing units. Provided leadership in the achievement of agency priorities including, but not limited to, compliance with legal mandates and minimum standards, ensuring effective and efficient operations, and the optimal application of correctional best practices:

- On an ongoing basis, assess, support and sustain the efforts of the Correction Intelligence Bureau within the purview of the Assistant Commissioner and its executive staff. Established objectives, priorities and benchmarks consistent with Departmental goals; monitored and managed toward improved results. Developed methods for evaluating effectiveness and proposed new procedures based on outcomes.
- Concurrently, undertook, through subordinates, systematic reviews of Correction Intelligence Bureau organizational segments to assess the soundness of their operations. Developed Correction Intelligence Bureau guidelines and subsequently implemented new or revised policies, procedures and protocols where necessary, to enhance performance.

- Developed and strengthened interagency information-sharing and collaboration efforts through the Correction Intelligence Bureau's Fusion Center to enhance intelligence operations and improve coordination for criminal prosecutions.
- Undertook systematic, comprehensive reviews of the Correction Intelligence Bureau's intelligence collection and analyses; evidence collection; case management and tracking; and confidential informant recruitment and management processes.
- Ensured adequate accountability metrics were established within the management review structure to specifically measure intelligence inputs and outcomes.
- Responsible, through subordinates, for the development, implementation, and evaluation of criteria used for Correction Intelligence Bureau personnel recruitment, selection, and retention.
- Maximized the intelligence and gang management contributions of the Correction Intelligence Bureau through measures including enhanced criminal intelligence analysis, confidential informant, and investigations training; case management and tracking training; inmate apprehension and re-arrest training; and electronic surveillance and crime scene preservation training.
